DIRECTORATE OVERVIEW

The ACT Education Directorate (Directorate) delivers high quality education services through government schools, registers non-government schools and administers vocational education and training in the ACT. The Directorate aims to develop and deliver educational services to empower each child and young person in the ACT to learn for life.

The Education Directorate is one of seven ACT Government Directorates established with a collaborative purpose to achieve the ACT Government's priorities and to serve the community. The Education Directorate services include the provision of public-school education, regulation of education and care services, registration of non-government schools and home education.

What is important to us: We are an education system that empowers our young people to thrive in ways that foster a democratic, equitable, diverse and prosperous society.

Our Mission: We develop and deliver educational services to empower each young person in the ACT to learn for life.

Our Vision: Our Directorate values of respect, integrity, collaboration, and innovation reflect the employee values of the ACT Public Service. These core values underpin our service delivery and are the cornerstone of our workplace environments. Translating these values into daily practice is an expectation of all ACT public servants.

The ACT public education system continues to expand with over 50,000 students attending 94 public schools, comprising:

- Fifty Five preschool to year 6 schools (including four Koori preschools);
- twelve year 7 to 10 high schools;
- eight year 11 and 12 secondary colleges;
- five early childhood schools (preschool to year 2);
- four specialist schools;
- eight preschool to year 10 schools (including one Koori preschool);
- one kindergarten to year 10 school; and
- one year 7 to 12 school
- one outdoor school/accommodation centre.

The Directorate also has responsibility for the planning and coordination of early childhood education and care services for the ACT.

The Directorate is structured around four divisions: School Improvement Division; System Policy and Reform; Business Services Division and Service Delivery and Design. The Directorate employs approximately 7,050 staff including 4,211 school teachers and leaders.

BRANCH OVERVIEW

The School Improvement Branch works closely with schools supporting them to develop sustainable processes that ensure a culture of school improvement and accountability related to their individual context.

SCHOOL OVERVIEW

ACT Public Schools deliver quality education to shape every child's future and lay the foundation for lifelong development and learning.

Located in the heart of Canberra, Campbell Primary School is a welcoming and inclusive learning community where students, families and staff work together to support the learning, wellbeing and success of every child. We are committed to fostering a positive and supportive environment where all students are known, valued and encouraged to achieve their personal best.

Our dedicated educators deliver high-quality, evidence-based teaching and learning programs that nurture curiosity, creativity and a love of lifelong learning. Guided by our vision of developing a community of engaged learners, we create an environment that is inclusive and respectful, fosters a strong sense of belonging, and empowers students to be curious, connected and caring members of the community.

POSITION OVERVIEW

The Administration Officer (ASO3) is an integral member of the school's front office team and plays a key role in supporting the day-to-day operations of a busy and dynamic school environment. As one of the first points of contact for students, parents, carers, visitors and staff,

Other information

Working in a School Setting Duty of Care

The legal duty of care requires that all staff should take all reasonable measures to ensure the safety of any student. Whilst Administrative Service Officers (ASO) do not have the same level of duty of care as teachers, because of the student/teacher relationship that exists and teachers' professional standing, all staff are required to take reasonable steps to protect students against risks of injury that could have reasonably been foreseen.

The duty is not to ensure that there is no injury but to take reasonable care to prevent injury that could have reasonably been foreseen. The level of duty of care for ASO staff will depend on the individual role and the arrangements put in place by the principal.

All ASO staff are responsible for providing basic physical and emotional care for students. This may include activities such as toileting, assisting with meals and lifting of students and/or the provision of support to students in accordance with approved student health care/treatment plans. The degree of responsibility for these activities will vary depending on the role, individual student needs and the working environment.

Employment conditions

A full-time Administrative Service Officer's ordinary hours of work are 147 hours over a four week period (i.e. an average of 73 hours 30 minutes per fortnight or 36 hours 45 minutes per week).

Administrative Service Officers usually work 7 hours 21 minutes per day with an additional 60 minutes for a lunch break.

Administrative Service Officers in schools are required to work during school stand down periods (school holidays), noting that flexible working conditions may apply on an individual basis.

Extracurricular activities

Administrative Service Officers in schools may be required to assist teachers with the care and supervision of students in out-of-class activities including on school excursions, overnight camps and when transporting students to other campuses or facilities.

These school activities may be in addition to their ordinary hours of work. In these circumstances, participation is voluntary and following agreement with the Principal,

Administrative Service Officers may be granted flex or overtime in accordance with the enterprise agreement.

The degree of responsibility for these activities will vary dependant on the Administrative Service Officer, student needs and environment.

Mandatory reporting requirements

Administrative Service Officers in schools also have an additional responsibility for the care and protection of students. The Children's and Young People Act 2008 (the Act) identifies certain persons, including teachers and public servants who in the course of their employment works with or provides services to children and young people, as mandatory reporters.

A mandatory reporter must notify Care and Protection Services when they believe, on reasonable grounds, that a child or young person has experienced, or is experiencing, sexual abuse and/or non-accidental physical injury.

Reportable conduct

The ACT Reportable Conduct Scheme is an employment based child protection measure designed to ensure that allegations and convictions against employees, related to abuse and misconduct against children, are identified and acted on appropriately. The Scheme was developed in response to the Royal Commission into Institutional Responses into Child Sexual Abuse and mirrors the NSW system, which has proven to be an effective and successful model.

The ACT Education Directorate is considered a 'designated entity' under the scheme and as such is required to report allegations, offences or convictions relating to child abuse or child-related misconduct by an employee, to the ACT Ombudsman. For the purposes of the scheme, a child is classified as a person under 18 years old.
